

When I first contacted Matts, my hope was that he could do at least something to correct the acoustic imperfections of my recording studio, built in the basement of my own house. The conditions are anything but optimal with a ceiling height of only 2m. When he and his magic boxes arrived, it took just under 40 minutes putting everything together, adjusting the modules in place, and BAM! The acoustics were not only corrected but perfected, allowing me to be back in production in no time, but this time with a sweet spot comparable to most of the world's finest mixing facilities.

Great recording facilities! The room gives the vibraphone a very natural and full sound that brings something extra into the recording process. You have really succeeded in creating a great sound, including both a good low register and as well as a high register, allowing me to play very dynamically. I have had the opportunity to record solo as well as with bass and drums, and the room works very well in both situations. Thanks for putting your skill into these great facilities. Anders Åstrand http://www.andersastrand.com/About_Me.html

Matts!

Thank you for your help!

With Your knowledge and products, You managed to exceed my very high demands.

With a less than ideal ceiling height to start with, the room still plays straight from 20khz down to a shattering 20hz! And the amount of detail and resolution in the sound is mindblowing. By far the best room I've ever worked in!

Thank you!

"To me the new Wing diffuser makes singing comfortable even in a small vocal room. Most recording booths are too dampened, which makes singing unnatural, but with these diffusers you get support from the room without the signal being "roomy". I really like the depth and warmth of the new Wing diffusers, makes the voice feel freer!"

"-I mean, this guy is an ABSOLUTE WIZARD! He has an understanding of acoustics that is simply very rare on this planet. Other acousticians mess things up with their general idea to absorb sound. Matts fights to keep the energy of the music intact, and REDIRECTS it instead, which is a much more intelligent way of dealing with the problems."

San Diego-based producer Christian Cummings has recorded in the BoomTown studio and is very happy with the acoustics as well as the overall feel of the studio.

- "Personally, it's rare that I find a studio as well balanced as BoomTown. It's very neutral yet pleasing, and I believe Svanå Miljöteknik is a major factor in that success." Says Christian.
